GERMANS AGREE
TO DISARM AS
ALLIES DEMANDSign Engagement Under
Protest at Spa,
Belgium

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Spa, Belgium, July 9.—Germany's delegates signed at 11:45 o'clock this morning an engagement accepting the terms of the allied note relative to disarmament presented yesterday. This action was taken under protest by the German representatives.

The allied note which amounted virtually to an ultimatum, demanded that the Germans accept the terms presented by noon today, and stipulated that, in the event of the Germans failing to carry out the provisions of the demands allied forces would occupy parts of the German empire.

Protest in Writing.
The Germans protested in signing the engagement that the treaty of Versailles did not obligate them to acquiesce in neither territorial occupations except for failure to fulfill the treaty terms regarding reparations.

The decision to obey the allied demand was reached at an early morning session today by unanimous vote. The vote was taken after a telephonic communication with reichstag leaders in Berlin approving the acceptance and communicating the desire of the reichstag and party leaders for the cabinet at Spa to use its own judgment.

Decisions Unanimous.
An unanimous decision also was taken by the cabinet that the allies should be informed that Germany could not accept these stipulations concerning possible occupation of the Ruhr and other territories, provided the disarmament was not executed according to the allies' judgment.

It was held the German cabinet was precluded by constitutional reasons from entering into any such arrangement without the authority of parliament. Hence the allies were requested to strike this paragraph from their demand, it being said that otherwise the Germans might not be able to continue the conference.

The protest made by the Germans in signing the engagement was submitted in writing. In it the delegates denied authority to consent to occupation of German territory except as provided for in the treaty of Versailles.

Warsaw, July 9.—Russian Bolshevik forces have broken through the Polish lines south of the Dvina river in a drive designed to overrun Lithuania and form a contact with East Prussia, according to an official statement issued here late today.

The Soviet army is using infantry, cavalry, artillery, airplanes and tanks. The Poles are fighting desperately to check the advance along the northern front, against which the enemy is throwing crack divisions.

On the south front, General Budenny, with Rovo in his possession, is advancing in the direction of Lemberg, which is but 150 miles from Warsaw.

Missouri G. O. P. to Clean House at Once

By Associated Press Leased Wire
St. Louis, Mo., July 9.—Republicans from throughout Missouri met here today for the announced purpose of forming "clean government organizations" all over the state. The primary objects of the organizations will be the regulation as far as possible of campaign expenditures, it was said.

The meeting is the outgrowth of a series of conferences which Republicans of the state have held after recent revelations concerning the handling of pre-convention campaign funds by party leaders. Resolutions were adopted at previous meetings calling on National Committeeman Jacob L. Bahler and State Chairman Cole to resign, on account of their connection with these expenditures.

ED H. MOORE

Youngstown, O., July 9.—A committee of business men are making arrangements today for a non-partisan demonstration in honor of E. H. Moore, Governor Cox's pre-convention manager, when he returns to his home here from San Francisco.

Strategy of Ed. H. Moore, veteran Ohio politician, is given a large measure of the credit for the Cox victory in the Democratic convention at San Francisco. Moore will probably be manager of Cox's presidential campaign, as well. This snapshot of Moore was taken at San Francisco, where he was on the job day and night.

Chicago, July 9.—Efforts to secure endorsement of the Committee of Forty-Eight for a plank favoring American aid toward Irish independence will be continued despite adverse result of a mail vote, it was learned today. Frank P. Walsh, who participated in the unsuccessful fight before the Republican and Democratic conventions, is bringing it to the Chicago meeting, it was said today.

A majority of the 30,000 persons voting on the recent referendum which included a proposed Irish plank among other questions, registered opposition to planks submitted on foreign relations, particularly the Irish, Russian and Mexican questions.

Reject Single Tax.
The rejection by delegates of a single tax convention of Senator LaFollette as a presidential candidate may result in announcement of two presidential tickets during "third party" conferences here beginning Saturday.

J. A. H. Hopkins, national chairman and at one time national treasurer of the Progressives was actively engaged today in arranging preliminaries for the convention. Professor Stanley Rypins of the University of Minnesota was assisting him.

The convention will be called to order tomorrow by Allen McCurdy of New York who will deliver the keynote address.

OHIO MAN TALKED OF
TO BE DEMOCRATIC
CAMPAIGN DIRECTORE. H. Moore, Who Put Cox
Across, May Head Nat.
Committee

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Dayton, O., July 9.—Plans for the Democratic campaign continue to be held in abeyance by Governor James M. Cox, the candidate for president, pending the arrival from San Francisco of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the vice presidential candidate, and members of the sub-committee of the national committee for the first conference with the presidential nominee. The date of the conference is undetermined as the time of arrival is not known. It may not be before Monday.

Governor Cox has given no intimation as to whom he wants for campaign manager. It is known, however, that many of his friends are urging the selection of E. H. Moore, Youngstown, O., the governor's pre-convention campaign manager whom the nominee is known to give much of the credit for his nomination. Whether Mr. Moore would accept, or like Harry M. Daugherty, Senator Harding's pre-convention manager, step aside for some other person is not known. As Ohio is to be the chief battle ground in the campaign, some of the Governor's friends say a manager should be chosen who is thoroughly acquainted with political conditions in the state. They admit that Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the national committee who is being urged in some quarters for the position would be a good man for the job, but because of the expected battle in the Buckeye state, they feel that Mr. Moore is the logical man to manage the campaign.

Had Half Holiday.
Whether Governor Cox has discussed the question of selection of a manager with any of the leaders is not known. This is expected to be one of the questions considered at the coming conference. Of course, Governor Cox will talk over the matter with Mr. Roosevelt, his running mate, before any announcement is made. The governor declared a half holiday in politics yesterday and spent the afternoon at his old home near Jacksonburg, 20 miles south of Dayton. A score of newspapermen and camera men who trailed the governor found him in a grass covered ravine roasting potatoes and broiling lamb chops over a camp fire. He personally served his hungry intrusive guests and spent part of the afternoon in the shade of a big willow tree answering questions about farming. He conducted the news writers about his estate showing them everything interesting about the farm and his old home.

The governor has intimated that he may go to Washington soon for a conference with President Wilson. It is known that he has held a number of conversations over the telephone with Secretary Tumulty during the past few days.

Conference on July 20.
The first important conference to arrange Democratic party campaign plans will be held here Tuesday, July 20, according to a telegram received by Governor Cox from Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the national campaign committee, today.

Mr. Cummings's telegram stated that he has called a meeting of the entire national committee for that date to confer with the governor. Governor Cox stated, however, that he was not definitely certain whether the conference will be held here or in Columbus, as in previous telephone conversation with Chairman Cummings, the latter had indicated the conference would be held in Columbus. Governor Cox is of the opinion, however, that the information contained in the telegram supercedes that conveyed in the telephone conversation.

COMPETITION AMONG OHIO NEWSIES

HARDING TO COX
(Telegram.)

GOV. JAMES M. COX:—

I recall a much-remarked cartoon which portrayed you and me as newshouse contenders for the White House delivery. It seems to have been prophetic. As an Ohioan and a fellow publisher, I congratulate you on your notable victory. WARREN G. HARDING.

Last March the Columbus Citizen printed the accompanying cartoon picturing Warren Harding and James Cox as rival news candidates for the presidency.

That was long before they were generally regarded as probable winners of Republican and Democratic nominations.

Today, when these two newspaper men are the chosen standard bearers of their parties the cartoon is even more timely.

Harding, Republican, started his career as editor of the Marion (Ohio) Star, and continues to this day as its publisher and owner.

Cox, Democrat, began as a reporter for a Cincinnati paper, and later became editor and publisher of the Dayton (Ohio) News.

Both were—and are—good newspaper editors. Both had boyhood training in press rooms, and both went from the editorial desk into politics and public office.

One of the two will be the next president of the United States—the first editor to be the nation's chief executive.

St. Louis, Mo., July 9.—The senate committee investigating campaign expenditures transferring its activities to St. Louis today launched an inquiry into the campaign of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer who was candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The attention of the committee as the hearing opened was centered on the reported distribution of $2000 among the 28 members of the city Democratic committee by Edward F. Goltra, St. Louis, Democratic national committeeman from Missouri, to help to defray the expenses of the committee at the state convention at Joplin.

Goltra Against Reed.
Goltra who was supporting the candidacy of Attorney General Palmer, was active in the fight on Senator Reed when the latter after being rejected by the state convention, as a delegate from the fifth district to the national convention sought to obtain his seat at San Francisco.

Goltra, Joseph T. Davis, a local attorney, and nine of the city committeemen were among the witnesses summoned to testify today. Neither Goltra or Davis have returned from San Francisco.

Senator Reed is a member of the investigating committee which includes Senator Kenyon as chairman and Senator Spencer of Missouri.

Mexico City, July 9.—Five generals have taken up arms against the new Mexican government. Provisional President De La Huerta told foreign correspondents last night but he declared they did not constitute a military menace, since they had but very few followers. He estimated that not more than 500 men had been involved in recent outbreaks.

He admitted that the new government had faced a rather serious situation upon taking over the government but asserted the army had been reorganized and that unstable forces could not shake the administration now.

Tomorrow's Game

Tomorrow afternoon's ball game between the Grand Detour Division and the Case Threshing Machine Co. teams at the Brown Shoe Co. park in this city promises to be for blood all the way, and fans may be sure that no matter which team wins that team will know it has been through a contest. When the challenges flew between the two teams early in the season it was arranged that a series of three games would be played for the championship of the Case Co. interests. The play makers went to Racine a few weeks ago for the first game and were defeated. To stay in the race for the title they've got to win tomorrow and determination is the middle name of every member of the team as he contemplates tomorrow's contest, which will begin at 3 o'clock.

Miss Mamie Vandemoor, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Vandemoor of near Prophetstown, Whiteside county, is dead from injuries received when the horn of a saddle in which she was riding horseback penetrated her abdomen and stomach in a collision between her horse and one ridden by Miss Conger, a girl companion with whom she was racing last Saturday.

The girls had left the Vandemoor home to ride to Yorktown and soon after leaving home started to race their horses. The Vandemoor girl's horse outdistanced the other, and after getting some distance ahead the young lady pulled up at the side of the road to wait for her companion.

Miss Conger, driving rapidly in the dusk of evening, did not see her chum's horse, and her mount plunged madly into it. The impact forced Miss Vandemoor against the saddle horn with terrible force, inflicting the fatal injuries.

The automobile tourists park north of the Borden milk factory, is gaining wide popularity in the middle west and tourists from all parts of the country are spreading the news of the existence of such a place at Dixon. The highway has been blazed as far west as Fulton and east as far as DeKalb, with signs calling the attention of the tourists to the park. One tourist who stopped at the park over night recently stated that he was told of the grounds at Dixon by a party of automobile travelers he met in western Iowa who had taken advantage of its location and facilities and camped there one night.

Car Priority Orders

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, July 9.—State Highway commissioners and representatives of industries were witnesses today before the Interstate Commerce Commission, is holding hearings to determine if there is any necessity for a modification of its recent order requiring preferential handling of coal shipments by railroads east of the Mississippi.

Representatives of the business interests declared the industries faced ruin unless the order was modified. The highway commissioners urged the necessity of providing cars for shipment of road building material.

The industries chiefly affected, according to witnesses testifying yesterday as manufacturers of dealers in cement, crushed stone, sand, gravel, lime and similar materials and whose products are largely shipped in open cars. Under the commission's order most of this class of cars have been confined to movement of coal.

SHERIFF RAIDS
HOTEL CELLAR:
GETS EVIDENCEStill Was in Operation
But Owners Made
Escape

Sheriff Frank A. Schoenholtz and Deputies Phillips, Miller and Wilson raided the hotel east of Dixon near the Sandusky cement plant yesterday afternoon and seized a still, which was located in the basement of the building and which was in full operation when the officers walked in. The still was unwatched, there being no persons in the basement and today the sheriff is looking for Mr. and Mrs. Mike Fino, who are said to have been using the basement of the building and operating the still.

The still, which was made out of a copper boiler, was sitting on a three burner kerosene stove and operating at full capacity. Several barrels, kegs and jars in the cellar contained more than a hundred gallons of mash which was manufactured from raisins, peaches and corn meal. That part of the cellar where the still was located showed evidence of long usage and a generous output.

Of Crude Manufacture.

From the boiler, which was placed on the kerosene stove, two long copper pipes ran through a crude condenser to the receptacles on the floor. The windows of the basement had been covered over with old canvas so as to exclude the light and guard against possible discovery. Several cases of soft drinks were piled about the still. Barrels and other containers sitting near the plant contained the fruit mash ready to be pumped into the boiler and turned into alcohol. Only about two gallons of the finished product was found.

Mr. and Mrs. Fino do not reside at the hotel, but have been making their home in one of the three cement block houses on the west side of the road. A few rooms in the hotel building are furnished and occupied by employees at the cement plant. The door to the cellar was locked when the sheriff entered but it was easily forced. The odor of the cooking mash filled the lower floor of the building. It is believed that Mr. and Mrs. Fino fled across-country when they learned of the presence of the sheriff and his deputies.

Didn't Know Operators.

When the raiding party arrived at the hotel they did not know the exact location of the still in the building and did not know the identity of the owners and operators until some time after the equipment had been removed from the cellar and loaded on an auto truck to be hauled to the county jail. The Fino home was closed and there was no evidence of any of the family being at home.

Sheriff Schoenholtz has been satisfied for some weeks that a still was in operation in the vicinity of the cement plant and he and his deputies have made repeated attempts to locate it. A short time ago he gave out a statement announcing his intentions to make a general clean up of conditions at the cement plant colony. Several colored women who lived in small shacks on the Daysville road were ordered out of the county by the sheriff and yesterday afternoon's raid on the cement hotel is evidence of the determination of the county official to improve conditions in that locality.

There have been endless numbers of complaints of drinking, sale of intoxicants and even hints that brothels were being manufactured near the cement plant for some time. These reports have not only been made to the county officials but to the city police as well.

Corn Declined Under Crop Report Influence

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, July 9.—Bearish forecasts of the government crop report led to further selling in the corn market today, but traders were inclined to be cautious in view of the drastic declines of late. The fact that commission houses were insisting on heavy margins tended also to steady values somewhat. On the other hand, receipts continued liberal and field reports auspicious. Initial quotations which ranged from half to one and a half cents lower, with September 1.54 1/2 to 1.55 1/2 and December 1.38 to 1.39 1/2, were followed by moderate rallies and then by another sag.

Oats weakened with corn. After opening 1/2 to 5/8 off, including September at 78 to 78 1/2, the market scored a little advance, and then fell lower than before.

Higher prices on hogs strengthened provisions. Besides it was said a big sale of lard to Europe had been negotiated.

Later the market made a brief display of strength chiefly in connection with reports that black rust was spreading in South Dakota and Southern Minnesota. Nevertheless the close was heavy, 1/2 to 1 1/2 net lower with September 1.54 1/2 to 1.55 1/2 and December 1.38 1/2 to 1.39 1/2.

THURSDAY READING CIRCLE—

The Thursday Reading Circle members were entertained on Thursday by Mrs. Mae Glick in her home in Taylor township. The attendance of members was large and there were also a number of guests, including Mrs. Mae Cleaver and daughter, Mrs. Frute and daughter, and Mrs. Alice Henry, all of Taylor township, and Miss Gladys Keeler, of Sterling.

As this was the last meeting of the year for the circle, officers were elected. Mrs. Robert Anderson, who had served for a good many years as president, asked to be relieved of this office, and Mrs. Ackert was chosen in her stead. Mrs. Charles Floto was elected vice president, Mrs. A. P. Corbin, secretary, and Mrs. Scott, treasurer. Mrs. Corbin and Mrs. Scott, who have each served long and efficiently, were each presented with silver spoons by the club, Mrs. Robert Anderson making the presentation.

Miss May Cleaver added to the pleasure of the afternoon by giving two delightful readings, the first, "God in the Open Air," by Van Dyke. Her second number was given in response to demands for an encore and was also very pleasing. The circle had prepared no set program, but each member gave brief talks on current events. A delicious luncheon was served at the close of the afternoon.

The next affair of the circle will be a picnic to be held in two weeks with Mrs. Dadd at her residence in Grand Detour.

Miss Kent is a thorough going sportswoman and horsewoman, an expert polo player, and her service in the training of horses was in much demand during the war. Miss Kent is here from San Francisco after a visit in Japan and Chicago and Chicago Heights with brother, and will leave New York in about a week for India, thence going to Africa. Miss Kent arrived in Dixon and will remain here with her uncle's family about a week.

The past four years she has spent in England and in traveling and her knowledge of the various countries make her delightful as a conversationalist. Of all, she says she prefers the United States where she says she and the people so open-hearted.

"WHERE GABRIEL WOODED AND WON EVANGELINE"

Acadia has earned its place in romance and literature as a land of peace, quiet and happiness. The real Acadia, now called the "Land of Evangeline," in Nova Scotia, was all of that, and more.

Tragedy followed peace and happiness when the Acadians were ex-patriated, but the glamor of romance still hovers around Grand Pre, Wolfville and the Basin of Minas, the homes of the peaceful folk whose history began nearly three centuries ago, ended in 1755 and has been romance ever since.

Nova Scotia, each year, is visited by thousands who enjoy June's "apple blossom time," when the whole country is a riot of color and perfume; who fish in the streams and the ocean; take a dip in the surf and enjoy golf, tennis and many other sports.

The romance of Evangeline, the Acadian girl who was separated from her lover but wandered thousands of miles in search of him, made a strong appeal to Longfellow's imagination, and countless thousands who have read his great poem have made a pilgrimage to Grand Pre where a bronze statue of Evangeline will soon stand near "Evangeline's Well" and the old Acadian willows—the "weeping willows" that seem to bend and bow in sadness at remembrance of the unhappy fate of Evangeline, and Gabriel, her lover.

Goltra Signed Checks

Checks signed by Goltra were given to delegates to pay their expenses to the state Democratic convention at Joplin according to testimony given today by members of the St. Louis Democratic committee before the senate committee.

This convention was instrumental in ousting United States Senator Jas. A. Reed, Democrat, Missouri from his national convention seat. Senator Reed, a member of the investigating committee, took no part in today's session other than to be present in order to complete a quorum.

Patrick O'Neill, member of the Democratic city committee and a delegate to the Joplin convention, told the committee he was given a check for $150 signed by Goltra to pay expenses to the convention.

Was Against Goltra. Lawrence P. Daley, chairman of the city committee gave him the check he said. When O'Neill declared he was "against Goltra," Senator Spencer asked if it wasn't unusual to accept Goltra's check, then.

"No," answered O'Neill, "I thought the money was subscribed. Why shouldn't the Democratic party pay my expenses?"

Henry Streutker, another city committeeman, said his check for $150 was given him at committee headquarters. He asserted the money didn't pay all expenses and the delegates had hoped they would get more.

Delegates for Reed. "Goltra was against Reed, but most of the delegates who traveled on his money were for Reed," Streutker declared.

Streutker said he "presumed every delegate from the tenth district got $150." He denied he had any intention of helping Goltra.

Tony Steuver, another delegate to the state convention also gave him $100, Streutker said. Steuver was a friend of Senator Reed and favored Cox for president, he added.

"In other words you got $150 from the Goltra faction, and $100 from the Steuver faction when you knew these factions were antagonistic?" asked Senator Kenyon.

"To Help Democrats." "Well, I thought the money had been subscribed and was to help the Democrats," Streutker replied.

"Goltra made it plain the money was for expenses and told the delegates he was sorry he couldn't get more."

Streutker then declared that while making it plain the money was for expenses, Goltra told the delegates there were no strings attached to the checks.

"Was there a wink in his eye?" asked Senator Spencer.

"No." Arthur Lancaster another committeeman said he also received a Goltra check for $150 and understood Goltra had contributed quite a lot of money himself.

Asked who Goltra favored for president, Lancaster replied:

"Palmer. We figured Palmer was dry and we wanted a 'wet.' That's why many of us didn't side with Goltra."

"The St. Louis delegates figured that if Kansas Senator Reed, he should be made a delegate to San Francisco," Lancaster continued.

Vote As Directed.

Replying to a question by Senator Spencer Lancaster said that "a delegate who received money from a man should vote as that man directed."

"You know Goltra was for Palmer—didn't you," asked Spencer, "and any man who went to the convention on Goltra would be Palmer then?"

"Yes, but he didn't consider the Goltra money," Lancaster answered.

Lancaster confirmed the "no strings attached" statement attributed to Goltra by Streutker.

James Miles, another committeeman declared he knew of no federal office holder being sent to San Francisco as delegate to the Democratic convention. He and M. J. McGee, the next witness also testified they received Goltra checks for $150 each for expenses to the state convention.

John R. Rolfe, city committeeman said he received $150 from Goltra, $100 from a friend of Steuver's and $25 from Brinkman.

Would Make Divorce Unconstitutional By Federal Amendment

By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, July 9.—Inauguration of a campaign for federal constitutional amendment making divorce impossible, was announced today by Rev. Dr. Walter Gwynne, general secretary of the Society for the Upholding of the Sanctity of Marriage.

Vigorous propaganda will be carried on, said Dr. Gwynne to extend the membership of the organization to every Christian denomination in the country and ministers of every creed will be urged to refuse to perform the marriage ceremony for any person that has been divorced.

Leaders of the movement say it is endorsed by Episcopal clergymen of New York and by numerous judges throughout the country.

A big-scale road test on 3,200 tubes

How Firestone puts the miles in—and then proves it
—not at YOUR expense

No other tubes in the world are road tested on so big a scale as Firestones. The Yellow Cab Company of Chicago uses Firestone Tubes exclusively on its 800 taxicabs. The service of these tubes is checked constantly—improvements and developments are arrived at.

By close watching of a large number of tubes in service—not confined to isolated instances—the conclusions are accurate and definite.

Firestone puts the best in materials into tubes by establishing purchasing experts at Singapore, center of the world's rubber market. Firestone puts the best in workmanship into tubes by organizing the crack manufacturing organization of the industry on a profit-sharing basis.

And then subjects the finished product to this big-scale road test—in order to get you more for your tube money and more miles out of your tires. And yet Firestone Tubes cost no more than the ordinary kind.

ONE ON DUGAN

An old Irishman was told by a fortune teller that he could make three wishes and she would tell by the cards whether or not his wishes would be granted.

His first wish was for a fine farm
where he could have a beautiful country home and well-bred livestock, etc.
The cards said that wish would be granted.

His second wish was for a big green automobile to carry him from the fine farm to the city and back. The cards showed that wish would be granted also.

Before he made his third wish the fortune teller warned him that he had an enemy, a red-headed, freckledfaced man who smoked a pipe and that if this third wish were granted his enemy would be given a double portion of whatever he wished for.

The Irishman scratched his head
for a moment in deep thought. "Ah!"
said he, "That would be that black hearted Dugan! And he gets twice as much as I do of anything that comes to me on this third wish? Then I'll wish for wan glass eye for meself."

Such is Life

Where is the man who has not stepped up to the telephone, waited seven or eight days, finally snapped out a number, waited several weeks more,
had a sweet voice say: "Are you waiting?" given his number again, grown
a beard while staging another wait, and then been told that the party has had their phone taken out (probably during the time you were trying to get them.)

And show us the fellow who has not walked back and forth in front of his "private" closet, day after day,
built up great dreams of a little party
all by himself, gone to sleep and dreamed about it, smiled while at his work over the thought of it, and then finally opened the closet door only to find that somebody else knew the bottle was there and beat him to it.

Just imagine the bird who admits that he's a crackin' good carpenter, brags about going to build his own
chicken coop, remake his own screens, repair every little thing that goes on the blink around the house—and then smashes a thumb on his first attempt to wield a wicked hammer.

And did you ever, after getting an enormous electric light bill, decide to cut down the next month, and then watch every globe in the house, keep the porch light absolutely out, tell the wife to cut out using the electric iron, put the ban on the toaster—and then get a larger bill than the one that brought about all the "economy."

No matter how sweet a disposition you may have, the above events are right likely to send you merrily on your way "talking to yourself."

One Way to Use a Shovel

"Are you looking for a job?" he

"What kind of a job?" the tramp

"Yes," answered the tramp rubbing
his eyes. "I can fry ham on it."—

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

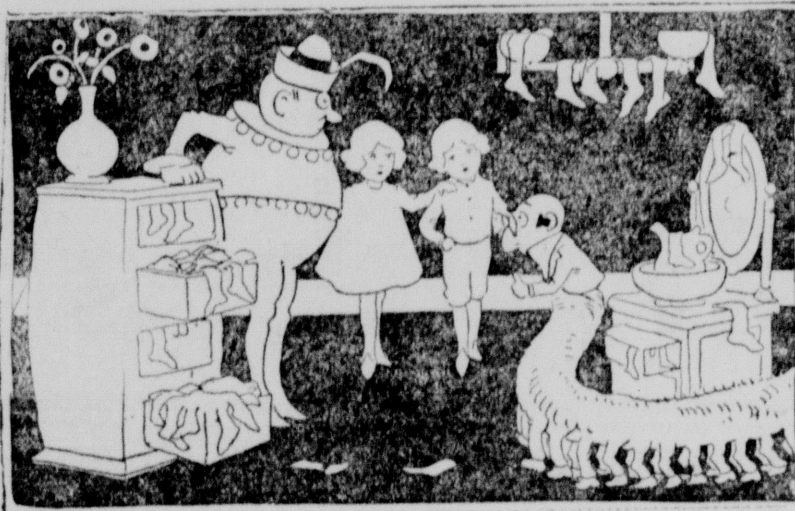

TOMMY'S SOCKS.

When Tommy Thousand-Legger said he forgot which sock he had put his money into, Tingaling and the twins offered to help him, of course. There wasn't any time to be lost if they were to collect all the rents that day in the Land-of-Deer-Knows-Where, and they would have to begin soon.

Tommy had told them that he had so many socks he couldn't count them dining room only. They had overflowed still further into the parlor,

and do you know, Tommy Thousand-Legger's socks were stuffing the piano and sticking out of the what-not, and even the umbrella stand was too crowded with socks for even the very slenderest cane to have found standing room.

But that was in the bedroom and dining room and parlor only, for even the kitchen was bursting with

THERE WERE SOCKS IN THE BUREAU, SOCKS IN THE WARD-ROBE, AND IN THE WASHSTAND.

all, so you may imagine what a job
it was. There were socks in the bureau, socks in the wardrobe and in the washstand; the chiffonier, too, was simply chuck-full! But that was in his bedroom only. They had overflowed into the dining room evening, mind you, and the sideboard and china-closet and linen-chest were stuffed full, too!

But that was in the bedroom and socks—the cabinet, and the oven (I don't know how he ever baked a pie),

and the flour bins, and all the things you can think of that I can't, were as full of socks as this story is of words!

I haven't mentioned cupboards, you see, because the cupboards were full of shoes, as Tommy had said.

I SET DOWN Ouija's Prediction of Daddy's Blindness a Coincidence

What Chrys might do in Honolulu and how far her daring might carry her when impelled by her hatred of Certeis, Bob couldn't guess better than I. When we discussed the strange situation of our relations, we had no fear that the plans Daddy had outlined would miscarry. But what might happen, outside of his regular program, might prove most annoying to all of us.

There was one statement in Daddy's letter which I could not discuss with my husband. Of course it distressed Bob to learn that Daddy had had a slight "stroke" which had resulted in his temporary blindness, but Bob didn't care to be reminded that one of Chrys' control had given her the same information a week before Daddy's letter arrived.

Bob remains deaf and dumb to every phase of his sister's mysticism,
and I didn't dare to ask him to account for the "revelation" as it had come through Chrys.

Perhaps it was only a weird coincidence that Daddy had been blind at a time when Chrys was considering the consequences of a "stroke". If so, it was just the kind of a coincidence which makes converts for Mme.
Ouija.

hunted and hunted for Tommy's rent
money. But nobody found it! Oh yes, Tommy was hunting, too! He was an elegant searcher at that, for he could unroll a pair of socks and roll them up again quick as you can snap your fingers. No wonder, with him wearing fourteen thousand and then some pairs of socks a week!

(Copyright, 1920, N. E. A.)

I found the only explanation which satisfied me when I went to Chrys'
room for a book I had loaned her.
On her desk were others, which she had been reading. One was a medical work with Jordan Spence's name on the fly leaf. It had to do with the results of cerebral hemorrhage.

"How characteristic of Chrys to select the unusual before she considered the commonplace," was my comment as I turned the pages.

Several cases of transient blindness were noted and it occurred to me that these had made a very deep impression upon Chrys' mind.

She had worried—with the rest of us—about Daddy's condition. She knew that his first attack of paralysis had been brought on by a fit of temper. Evidently Chrys had read up on the subject, had registered the accounts of blindness accurately, and then quite unconsciously had passed along the theory as a fact in one of her seances. And it happened to be a fact, too. Coincidences of this kind fascinate many devotees of the ouija board.

The explanation convinced me, but I realized that it would not satisfy a person who desired to believe in spiritism.

As an unbeliever in all methods of communicating with the dead, I was forever combating some new "revelation." I kept busy, too, for many of my cleverest friends give the weight of their wisdom and personality to the cult.

Since the "ouija girl" and "Mme.
Planchette" now have an act in Broadway's latest successful revue,
it looks as if the fad had reached its apex.

"I hope our girls took their ouija boards along," I said to Bob. "And

I wish they had taken me with them.
"Why?"

"Maybe I could have trapped a spy
by a new process. Perhaps I could discover the secrets of the plotters
by reading their wishes, spelled out, subconsciously by the ouija pointer."
"Write to Katherine," said Bob enthusiastically.

"Katherine is not a sincere devotee
like Chrys. She's quite unscrupulous. She will trap her prey by any process. I'll tell her what you and I believe about ouija. I'll try to show her that the subconscious mind tricks us. It stores up songs, ideas, scenes, all sorts of impressions, 'on the side,' one might say, and parades them so subtly that we do not recognize them as our own. It would be a perfectly grand stunt to catch spies

simply by reading their subconscious minds as the ouija board betrays them. Truly, Mme. Planchette is a false mistress."

CARE OF THE EYES.

The normal eyes, in order to be saved unnecessary strain, should work
under the best conditions at all times.

For instance, the light should always be sufficient, but never glaring; and, as far as possible, it should fall directly upon the work in hand and not upon the face. The work—size of type for example—should be such as will not require unusual effort on the part of the eyes. Neither should a person overwork his eyes any more than any other organ of his body.

If a person's eyes have an unconrected optical defect, a given amount of use will tire them more than those optically perfect, and such persons should govern their use accordingly.
However, any evidence of eye-strain or imperfect vision should always be reason to consult a competent oculist.
Never neglect the eyes, for through them comes more than half of life's pleasures.

Q.—What makes my finger nail ridge and full of white spots?

A.—It is impossible to say what the cause of this condition may be. This condition, however, is so entirely harmless that you should stop worrying about it.

Q.—Please tell me if there is any cure for diabetes. What are the signs of diabetes? I had the flu and since then my chest has a heavy feeling, but I do not cough. I am not very strong. Is it a sign of bronchitis?
Do you know of any good blood tonic?

A.—You are evidently attempting to diagnose your own condition. For this reason I am not telling you the signs of diabetes. You should be sure to go to a reputable physician, have him give you a thorough examination and see what is wrong.

Before the war about 150,000 railroad freight cars were constructed annually in the United States.

The average freight car travels
only about 25 miles a day.

POLICE WILL PREFER CHARGES AGAINST LT. WHOSE WIFE WAS SHOT

Wanderer Must Explain Several Things to the Authorities

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, July 9.—Police officials announced today that continuance of efforts by relatives of Lieutenant Carl Wanderer to obtain his release from custody will cause them to present formal charges against him.

A coroner's inquest was held today in an effort to identify the body of "the ragged stranger" who according to the man shot Mrs. Wanderer. Careful examination of his body indicates, police say, that he was not an ordinary tramp.

The withdrawal of $1,500 from a bank by the slain woman only two days previous to the shooting drew a new angle to the case. Wanderer first denied and later admitted knowledge of his wife's withdrawal of funds.

Coroner Peter Hoffman took personal charge of the inquest today. The coroner planned to re-act the entire scene of the shooting with Wanderer representing his part.

Wanderer's statement that both guns used in the shooting were his property, may establish, police say, that the ragged stranger was unarmed.

Police investigation of the past life of Mr. and Mrs. Wanderer has failed to develop anything that would throw light on the mystery. Wanderer never smoked, chewed, drank nor swore, was a regular church attendant and never had one sweet-heart, the girl he married.

Mrs. Wanderer never cared for dancing or lighter amusements.

Ten Shots Fired.
Police are also anxious to understand why, with ten shots fired at a range of less than three feet, Wanderer escaped unscratched while both his wife and the other man were killed.

"There is a strong possibility that Wanderer did all the shooting," Chief of Police Garrity says. The dead woman's relatives and friends all remain loyal to Wanderer and insist that not the slightest suspicion should attach to him and that "Carl wouldn't tell a lie."

LIBRARY NOTES

JOYS OF A COMPANIONABLE BOOK.

BY WARD MACAULEY.
A good book! Joyous companion of my heart,
A friend, in truth, in joy or grief thou art.

If I but choose thee wisely, then indeed, Thou shalt truly minister to my soul's need.
A chance acquaintance met in library or store
May often prove a friend worth knowing more.

However well I know those I love best I never can exhaust their wealth or interest.
A book that's much bethumbed and read again
And then once more, is friendly as the best of men.

Itself remains complete, it yet becomes a part of you and me.

Jesse Fender, a pioneer resident of Palmyra died at his home after being overcome. Alexander Brown Hayden, a prominent Dixon young man, also died as a result of being overcome.

20 YEARS AGO IN DIXON TELEGRAPH

Members of the Methodist church raised $1,192 at one service to pay off all indebtedness on the church edifice and to make some needed improvements.

Dr. A. F. Moore went to New York to purchase the first locomobile to make its appearance on the streets of Dixon. The car was driven by steam. William Faust, well known Dixon man, died at his home here.

ILLINOIS MAN HAS GAINED 37 POUNDS

"It's a Wonderful Medicine and I Would Advise Anyone Suffering as I Did to Try It."

"Well, sir, my appetite is so big since I began taking this medicine that the dinner bucket I've been carrying for a long time don't hold enough for me," was the characteristic statement made by A. H. Hill, better known as Gus Hill to his many friends in and about Galesburg, Illinois, recently. Mr. Hill is a painter and paper hanger and lives at 233 South Chambers street.

"No matter where I am I always manage to put in a good word for Tanlac. The reason I feel this way about it is, that when I started taking it I was in such a bad fix and now I feel as well as I ever did in my life. I have gained thirty-seven pounds, now weigh one hundred and ninety, and feel as strong as a mule."

"My stomach had been all out of whack for fifteen years and I don't believe there's any sort of medicine but what I tried. After eating I wouldloat up something awful and be in misery for hours. I often had such cramping pains that I would double up like a jack-knife and actually dreaded to eat on account of suffering so afterwards. I hadn't been able to sit down to the table and enjoy a square meal in years."

"My appetite went back on me entirely and lots of days I'd bring my dinner back home with me, hardly touched. But it didn't take Tanlac long to change things right about for me. I could tell after the first doses it was the right medicine for me. My stomach soon felt better, my appetite picked up, and before long I was able to eat without bloating up and having those awful pains afterwards. Now I can say for Tanlac, I believe it is the most wonderful medicine in the world. I am now eating like a wolf three times a day, eat all my dinner bucket will hold and wish for more, and the good part of it is, my stomach never gives a particle of trouble. Tanlac has built me up until I never felt better in my life, and I would advise anybody suffering as I did to try it."

Tanlac is sold in Dixon by the Public Drug & Book Co., and by the leading druggist in every town.

INDEPENDENTS TITLE WINNERS IN LEAGUE

Cop Junior League Pen- nant by Beating Union Giants

| Union Giants | 2 | 1 | .667 |

In the hardest fought and most interesting game of the season the Independents defeated the Union Giants at the Brown's park Thursday afternoon by a score of 15-4 and won the pennant. With the exception of the fifth inning in which the Independents ran in eight scores the game was played in big league style and was full of fight from start to finish. The Giants had practically an entire new lineup as most of their regular players were unable to play while the Independents had all their regulars on hand. Both teams used new twirlers—the Giants using Fordyce and the Independents "Red" Ryan, who is back on the job after a vacation.

Boudoir talks with Sybel on how cocoa butter rejuvenates the hands

I've always envied Sybel the ability to keep her hands so soft and white—so young looking! Wind and sun never seem to effect them at all, and yesterday she told me her secret.

"Age, my dear? Why even before the crow's feet and tell tale wrinkles appear, your hands tell the story."

"When I spend all kinds of money in beauty parlors fussing over their faces while their hands not only keep pace with time, but even go ahead of it."

"I'll never forget how particular old Nanette was with dear mother's hands. Every night she carefully massaged them with cocoa butter. Starting at the finger tips she rubbed them gently until the cocoa butter disappeared, which showed that the skin had absorbed the nourishment."

"How Nanette would have loved Coco-Bloom, my cocoa butter cream, for Coco-Bloom contains not only cocoa butter but other ingredients beneficial to the skin. It's a genuine pleasure to use the delicious, smooth cream after you've spent an afternoon motoring or on the links playing in the sun and wind. I never wear gloves and I can just feel my parched skin relax and regain its normal elasticity as I rub in the Coco-Bloom."

"Remember, Coco-Bloom is cocoa butter cream, and it supplies exactly what is needed to make your skin healthy."
